

President's Message

Alhamdulillah, MRDS has successfully completed another year and has taken incremental steps in forwarding information and promoting public awareness. MRDS held a variety of activities to bring the message of rare disorders to the public and amongst them, holding a press conference to publicise Rare Disease Day that was observed for the first time in Malaysia and preparing educational materials like posters, a book and brochures. MRDS has applied for tax-exempt status and is also looking for suitable partnerships that will benefit members.

Press Conference in conjunction with Rare Disease Day 2010

The press conference was held to create awareness among the public on the existence of rare disorders in the society and to hopefully stir the public to play a part in providing support in one way or another to patients and families. It is also hoped that the government's attention and commitment towards this cause would be increased as public awareness elevates. Speakers at the press conference included MRDS President, Dato' Hatijah Ayob and consultant paediatrician cum head of University of Malaya Medical Centre genetics unit, Prof MK Thong.

Rare Disease Day 2010 Gathering

A social gathering for people with rare diseases and their family members was held on 28th February at the home of the MRDS President. It provided an avenue for members to meet and share their stories with each other as well as for MRDS to reach out to new members and explain to them the role of the society. The evening also turned out to be fun for the children as they were kept busy with sand art and balloons.

Participation in Events

MRDS participated in a health exhibition held at Second College, University Malaya in conjunction with its 50th anniversary. MRDS also had an opportunity to set up a booth at the Medical Genetics Conference organized by the Medical Genetics Society of Malaysia.
